Vienna, July 14, 1918.

My dear Mr. Powers

I am glad to inform you that the War office has granted you permission to visit the Italian prisoners. It was not so easy to obtain it, for the Italian officers seem to object that they are "no freaks to be exhibited in a show" and so forth... But we explained them that your visit means comfort for their families who believe them outrageously treated.

For further particulars please apply to Oberst von Stutz (Wien I, Kriegsministerium Kriess gefangenenenabteilung,) who knows all about the matter. At the entrance of the War office show the enclosed letter and
